NO. 70

A DESERVED TRIBUTE.

One of the most impressive and affecting scenes ever witnessed in Harrodsburg's historical old court house occurred at motion hour. When the legal motions had been disposed of, Col. Ben Lee Hardin arose and said:

"May I please your honor, we have a little family affair to dispose of, and in it you may be somewhat interested. I therefore offer a motion that your honor vacate the bench while we dispose of it."

Judge M. C. Saulley looked a little surprised and puzzled, but after a moment of thought said: "I suppose it is best just now to let you have your way. I therefore vacate the bench." Whereupon he took his hat and left the court room.

On motion Hon. Con Bell was elected judge pro tem. Then Col Hardin read the following paper:

Addressing whom it may concern:

"We, the members of the Mercer county bar and officials of the court declare that in the Hon. M. C. Saulley, who for 11 years has presided as judge of our circuit court in this, the 13th judicial district of Kentucky, and whose term of office expires at this session as to Mercer county, we recognize:

1. A gentleman in all that the word implies, courteous, kind, sympathetic.

2. A lawyer versed, proficient, developed.

3. As judge, conscientious, impartial; showing no fear, expecting no favors, fair, firm, dignified, conservative. Following the form, but subordinating the technicalities of form to the spirit of equity.

4. At all times guiding member and officer with ethical precision, but in harmony with the amenities of the profession.

5. With a natural talent and aptitude for the selection of law, an intellectual endowment of the highest degree, we believe him fitted to adorn any position which a laudable ambition may prompt him to seek, or the respect and admiration of his friends may urge.

6. We believe and desire that a position for which he is so admirably equipped awaits his adorning that has broader district lines.

7. Our farewell here tendered to Judge Saulley is freighted with respect, admiration and affection, emphasized by reason of the 11 years' intercourse and contact.

8. That your honor sitting as judge pro tem, direct the clerk of this court to spread upon the records this testimonial with the signatures thereto attached, and that you furnish a copy of these proceedings to the newspapers of this district. This testimonial was then signed by every member of the bar and every court official, which shows in what high regard the judge is held by them.

Speaking to the motion to spread this testimonial upon the records of the court, Col Hardin said that it had been prepared by spontaneous and unanimous feeling and signed by every member of the bar and court official without solicitation. He paid a feeling and eloquent tribute to the character and attainments of Judge Saulley, saying he had known him intimately and constantly and loved him since they were schoolmates 43 years ago. Col Hardin's talk aroused much feeling and many tears were evident in the large audience.

Senator W. W. Stephenson spoke to the subject feelingly and paid a high tribute to Judge Saulley. He was followed by Attorney J. F. Vansardall in a touching testimonial. Messrs. Lew B. Brown and C. E. Rankin, Judges C. T. Corcoran and Ben Roach and Dr. J. H. Moore added their tributes to Judge Saulley's character, talents, conduct and personality as citizen, soldier, lawyer, judge and friend.

The feeling in the room was very tense when the remarks were concluded by Judge Bell in a masterly tribute to the judiciary as the most important branch of our triune system of government and to Judge Saulley as an eminent example of its honor and integrity. He ordered the clerk to spread the testimonial upon the records.

At this moment a jury came into the court room with a prepared verdict and Judge Bell vacated the bench and Judge Saulley took the chair and proceeded with the business of the court, not knowing just what had been done Harrodsburg Democrats.

Saves Two From Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y., "but, when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and to day she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to other medicines on earth. Infallible for coughs and colds. 50c and $1 bottles guaranteed by all druggists. Trial bottles free.

Bobbitt's Last Appeal.

CRAN ORCHARD, Oct. 28.—Having been called upon to speak at various places and having accepted some, I shall now have to revoke all appointments and acceptances except the one at Livingston for Friday night, which I shall try to fill, although no overcoat, no undercoat, no coat; but as I am to speak at night perhaps as my friend, Chris Hutchinson, says, after I commence speaking they will never see my clothes. Then the committee promised a grand reception, oyster supper, etc. But to all this I now object and protest and shall require nothing but my ordinary expenses to be paid, to which the committee on invitation agreed and promised. Now to my friends at Sugar Grove, Hammack and Bee Lick, I shall have to send my regrets and revoke those appointments. And I want to say to all democrats everywhere that the State ticket is in danger, the judicial race is involved in doubt as well as the Commonwealth's attorney and the legislative race is also in danger. It behooves all democrats to vote and to try and get others to do likewise. The city of Amyclae was destroyed because of silence. False alarms had been so often raised that the council passed an ordinance that the next one who raised the false cry: "The enemy is coming," should be put to death. When the Spartans came they found the city unwarned and unprepared and it fell an easy prey to the foe. Let every man constitute himself a vigilant sentinel on the watch tower of democracy and do his duty and victory will wave her glorious banner over a fallen foe, otherwise we shall have to pass under the Clandian yoke. For myself, if I do not see any more of the candidates, nor see any more of their pictures tacked up on posts, I shall vote the ticket from Alpha to Omega. FONTAINE FOX BOBBITT.

KINGSVILLE.

Dan Bester will in a short time erect a hall which will rival Walton's Opera House at Stanford.

Hon. S. M. Owens, W. S. Dryn and Dave Allen, of Hustonville, were here Saturday evening.

Judge Bell and Hon. R. C. Warren spoke to a large and enthusiastic audience Saturday evening. Judge Bell made the first and lengthier speech and no attentive person present could fail to see the expediency of voting the democratic ticket. Mr. Warren made a speech worthy of record. One or two prejudiced and carping republicans present pretended to be greatly incensed at the alleged abuse hurled at the republican party, when really only the truth was spoken in the language of gentlemen and the strongest invective heard was "mountain ruffians" in an allusion to the troublous times at Frankfort prior to Gov. Goebel's assassination. Our gallant Gov. Beckham was extolled and in fact as the INTERIOR JOURNAL has said, "excellent democratic doctrine was expounded." Hon. Jessu M. Alverson was called to the phone some distance off and was thereby prevented from making "the speech of his life." Hon. Harvey Helm, who was hooked to speak, failed to come. Judge Bell has impressed our people as being a gentleman in every respect and is as certain of carrying this precinct as he is of becoming Judge Saulley's successor.

Warren followed, urging the claims of the democratic party in an elegant and logical style. The meeting created considerable enthusiasm in the ranks, and the effect will be manifested at the polls.

THE GLOBE.

VOTERS TAKE NOTICE!

FELLOW CITIZENS:—A report is being circulated that I am an infidel and took stock in C. C. Moore's paper, The Blue Grass Blade, to which I submit the following:

MR. A. W. CARPENTER,
DEAR SIR:—You have asked me by telephone if I would not give you a written statement that you quit taking my paper because I was an infidel. My impression is as follows: You began taking my paper because I was a prohibitionist but knowing that I was an infidel and then you quit taking it either because I became more pronounced as an infidel or you became more pronounced as a Christian, or both. When you began to take my paper, your feeling toward the church was not very cordial and you afterward took more interest in the church and stopped my paper because I was an infidel. Respectfully, &c., CHARLES C. MOORE.

"UPPER MERIDIAN," NEAR LEXINGTON, KY., Oct. 23, 1903.
TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:—This is to certify that while Mr. Alverson and Mr. Keller were at our house on Sunday night, Oct. 19th Mr. Keller said to me about as follows: "Mr. Carpenter is pretending to be a great Christian but Mr. Alverson believes about as you do." My wife and the two gentlemen and I were all engaged in a pretty animated conversation and I do not know whether or not Mr. Alverson heard him say that. The words I give are not exactly those of Mr. Keller but they are nearly the same and the sentiment is exactly the same. CHARLES C. MOORE.

I can prove that after I notified Mr. Moore to stop his paper, he continued to send it but I did not take it from the office and when I learned that Mr. F. R. Compton, the postmaster at Milledgeville, was giving them out to other parties I instructed him not to do so and when a number of copies had accumulated in the office, I called for them and burned them in the stove in the postoffice. I can substantiate the fact that I have given more money to the county mission work of the Christian church than any other man.

I have not voted for any man on the democratic or republican ticket for more than 12 years; before that, I voted on both sides. I voted for Mr. Bradley against Judge Durham for Congress, on personal grounds, about 28 years ago. If elected I shall go to Frankfort as a patriot and not as a partisan with the welfare of my county at heart and will support any measure that I think best for the "great common people," regardless of any party.

I can prove that Mr. Alverson has said he was not in favor of a stock law, and in a few moments afterwards told another party in the presence of the first party and wink at the same time to the first party that he was in favor of a stock law. I can prove that Mr. Alverson has said that he was as good a prohibitionist as I am. There are other reports being circulated about me that are just as false, but "Truth crushed to earth will rise again," and the harder you rub it the brighter it will shine. "To thine own self be true and as day follows the night, thou canst not be false to any man."

Respectfully,
A. W. CARPENTER.

A WORD TO DEMOCRATS.

By the time the copies of our next issue are falling from the press the ballot will be dropping into the boxes to decide who shall be in charge of the offices in Kentucky. The campaign, therefore, in behalf of the democratic ticket, in so far as the INTERIOR JOURNAL is concerned, closes to day.

If Aladdin should now appear with his Wonderful Lamp to gratify any wish we might make, it would be that we were endowed with the arousing ability of the old fashioned exhorter that we might stir up the voters to a realization of the duty they owe to the State, the district, the county and themselves to vote the democratic ticket from Alpha to Omega at the election to be held on November 3rd. Our ticket is now on the home stretch, with the enemy far in the rear, but the race is never won until the goal is reached, and if we should now cease from our efforts, it might be lost. It behooves us to remember the old story of the race between the tortoise and the hare. There is no danger of democratic defeat, unless it be caused by over-confidence and indifference. The latter is the besetting sin of democrats, and if they were only as free as their opponents, there would never be any doubt about the result of elections in this State and in this county. The republicans have been justly charged with many offenses, but indifference about voting is not one of them. The republican, whether he be white or black, lame or halt, sick or well, is always at the polls early in the morning. The party is organized now as never before and is beautifully supplied with the most effective of the modern means of political warfare, the almighty dollar. While the democrats have been discussing the issues on every stump, unanswered, the republicans, with their dark lantern and gum shoe methods, have been scouring the county at night and perfecting what may be called a military organization. We predict with absolute confidence that every republican in Lincoln county who is alive on November 3rd will be at the polls to cast his vote. And now, for the last time, we desire to urge upon democrats the necessity of doing the same thing. Come, sick or well, whether it is convenient or inconvenient, and see that your friends and neighbors also come. We have the majority in the county beyond question, but no matter what the number in the county may be, only those who vote are counted. It is unnecessary now to elaborate the reasons which demonstrate beyond the peradventure of a doubt that it will be far better for the welfare of the State for the democrats to win. The mass of the voters have been made familiar with these reasons by the democratic orators and press. Briefly though it may be said they should be in control for "business reasons," to quote the advocates of Mr. Belknap. Ninety per cent. of the property in this State and in this county belongs to democrats and the management of all business concerns is given to the majority and not the minority stockholders.

The Bradley and Taylor administrations are sad object lessons to show the mistake of violating this plain business principle. The personnel of the democratic nominees, to put it mildly, is equal in every particular to that of the republicans, and their fitness for the positions they seek is in most instances far superior.

Our gallant young governor, who seeks to succeed himself, has been weighed in the balance and found to fill the requirements in every particular. No governor since the civil war has assumed the duties of the office under more trying conditions and none has performed his duties with more credit to the commonwealth and himself. The State was overwhelmingly in debt at the beginning of his term, but its end will see the treasury overflowing. Though slandered and assailed on every side by unscrupulous foes, he has emerged from the investigation of every charge without so much as the smell of fire on his garments. Mr. Belknap is altogether unfitted for the position, having had no training or experience whatever in political affairs, and if elected, he would be compelled, as Bradley said, to run the office by proxy.

It by no means follows that a man would make a good governor because he can run a hardware store. He would know how to pardon the assassins of Goebel, though, and that would be among the first of his official acts. Had he not been the owner of a barrel, he would never have received the nomination.

The other gentlemen on the State ticket are capable, clean and honest and the superiors of their opponents in every particular. Mr. Bell, the nominee for judge, is a lawyer of ability, a gentleman in all that the word implies, a consistent church member and for years has been at the head of the party organization in his county. Nature has endowed him with the qualities that make a model judge.

Mr. Hardin, who seeks the office of Commonwealth's attorney, has, as county attorney of Mercer, had eight years' experience in the prosecution of criminals and is an orator of force and ability. It has been publicly charged and never denied that his opponent never addresses a jury. A Commonwealth's attorney who can not speak could not have much weight in the prosecution of a case.

The bitterest enemy of Mr. Alverson will surely concede that he is as well equipped to take part in the proceedings of a legislative body as his opponent. He is a democrat, tried and true and will vote with his party on every issue that may come before the General Assembly and against the effort the republicans will surely make to unseat Gov. Beckham on the ground of ineligibility, if they should have a majority. The welfare of the State imperatively demands a democratic majority in the General Assembly and it is the duty of every Lincoln county democrat to help make that majority.

These gentlemen have all been chosen as the standard bearers of the party and whether or not we favored them in the preliminary contests, they are now entitled to our hearty allegiance. Therefore, let us make a long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether and run the majority so high that Kentucky may wipe from her escutcheon the stigma of being a doubtful State. Let the Northern corruptionists see that our people can not be corrupted by the boodle they are now pouring in. Let us be getting ready for next year's battle. We want to see the present occupant of the White House compelled to change his quarters. While he is possessed of a certain kind of ability, he is altogether unfitted to be chief executive. By his impetuosity, lack of discretion and narrow minded obstinacy, he has aroused sectional feeling as high as it was during the war. In placing himself on an equality with Negroes, he has made a disturbing element of the race question, which was rapidly settling itself before he appeared on the scene. In violation of his oath of office he has invaded another department of the government and abolished a postoffice because his patrons objected to a maiden squire in color as well as character, handling their mail.

A lack of space forbids an enumeration of his many big handed and unauthorized acts. He seems to have taken as his model, President Diaz, of Mexico, and considers himself dictator instead of president of the United States. If he does these things in the green tree of a first term, while an avowed candidate to succeed himself, what may we not expect in the dry of a second?

O, democrats, arouse yourselves and go to the polls in your might! Let it be said of the head of the democratic column in this and all future elections, "There stands Old Kentucky."

No democratic former admirer of Gov. Beckham can read his so-called "address" to Gov. Beckham without a feeling of sadness and of regret that the old man has lived so long. No voter production has been given utterance to on the stump or in type during the campaign and the charitable conclusion is that the "here of Port Donelson" is in his dotage.

COL. W. J. STONE says it is untrue that he will support the republican ticket. He is for Beckham and his co-tickets, he says.

LISTEN for the rooster's crow. He's a grand old bird, and good enough to place an "X" under.

Broke Into His House.

S. Lee Quinn, of Cavendish, Vt., was robbed of his customary health by invasion of chronic constipation. When Dr. King's New Life Pills broke into his house, his trouble was arrested and now he's entirely cured. They're guaranteed to cure, 25c at all drug stores.

POLITICAL.

The New York City republicans charge that Tammany has registered 20,000 floaters.

President Roosevelt was handsomely remembered by friends all over the country on the occasion of his 45th birthday anniversary.

"The democratic party is harmonious and united this year, and in better condition than it has been for years," says Senator James B. McCreary.

Gov. Beckham closed his campaign-tour in the First Congressional district by speaking to 5,000 enthusiastic Callaway county democrats at Murray. He will wind up with a speech at Bardonia Monday.

The republican State Central Committee, by a vote of eight to five, decided that J. Sherman Cooper is not the governing authority of the party in the 11th district. This action was a decided victory for Dr. W. Godfrey Hunter.

In a speech made to a crowd that filled every part of space in the auditorium at Louisville, Gov. Beckham delivered a final blow to the pretensions of the republicans who have attacked the Calhoun war fee. He read a letter that ex-Gov. Bradley wrote to Capt. Calhoun offering his services in collecting the claim, and a letter from Col. Walter Forrester, Gov. Bradley's assistant adjutant general, in which Mr. Forrester said he had investigated the claim, but at no time thought it possible to collect more than $100,000. He said he was certain Gov. Bradley's administration would have paid a contingent fee of 25 per cent. for the collection of the claim.

CHURCH MATTERS.

"The Disciples of Christ" for various missionary purposes, raised last year $281,000.

Ed J. C. Livingston will preach at Holden's Mill at 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

Five thousand delegates attended the National Missionary Convention of the Disciples of Christ at Detroit.

The 11th biennial conference of Women's and Young Women's Christian Association is being held at St. Louis.

The managers of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church, are holding their 22nd annual meeting at Chattanooga.

Rev. J. W. Hagin will preach at the Christian church Sunday morning on "The Post-Revival Course of the Church." At 7 in the evening on "Sodom's Suburbs."

Forty-five thousand dollars in personal gifts were received while the National convention was in session at Detroit, to be used for missionary and benevolent purposes. For school and benevolent purposes "The Disciples of Christ" last year raised $339,000.

Forty years ago Alexander Campbell was refused the privilege of preaching in any church, school house or court house in Detroit. Recently over 50 pulpits of that city were offered to those who plead for the restoration of primitive christianity. The sessions of the convention were all held in the church homes of the Baptist, the Congregationalist and the Methodist churches. The Christ spirit is coming more and more to supplant prejudice, obliterate minor differences and fill the world with "altruism."

A WORD TO DEMOCRATS.

By the time the copies of our next issue are falling from the press the ballots will be dropping into the boxes to decide who shall be in charge of the offices in Kentucky. The campaign, therefore, in behalf of the democratic ticket, in so far as the INTERIOR JOURNAL is concerned, closes to day.

If Aladdin should now appear with his Wonderful Lamp to gratify any wish we might make, it would be that we were endowed with the arousing ability of the old fashioned exhorter that we might stir up the voters to a realization of the duty they owe to the State, the district, the county and themselves to vote the democratic ticket from Alpha to Omega at the election to be held on November 3rd. Our ticket is now on the homestretch, with the enemy far in the rear, but the race is never won until the goal is reached, and if we should now cease from our efforts, it might be lost. It behooves us to remember the old story of the race between the tortoise and the hare. There is no danger of democratic defeat, unless it be caused by over-confidence and indifference. The latter is the besetting sin of democrats, and if they were only as free from it as their opponents, there would never be any doubt about the result of elections in this State and in this county. The republicans have been justly charged with many offenses, but indifference about voting is not one of them. The republican, whether he be white or black, lame or halt, sick or well, is always at the polls early in the morning. The party is organized now as never before and is beautifully supplied with the most effective of the modern weapons of political warfare, the almighty dollar. While the democrats have been discussing the issues on every stump, answered, the republicans, with their dark lantern and gum shoe methods, have been scouring the county at night and perfecting what may be called a military organization. We predict with absolute confidence that every republican in Lincoln county who is alive on November 3rd will be at the polls to cast his vote. And now, for the last time, we desire to urge upon democrats the necessity of doing the same thing. Come, sick or well, whether it is convenient or inconvenient, and see that your friends and neighbors also come. We have the majority in the county beyond question, but no matter what the number in the county may be, only those who vote are counted. It is unnecessary now to elaborate the reasons which demonstrate beyond the peradventure of a doubt that it will be far better for the welfare of the State for the democrats to win.

The mass of the voters have been made familiar with these reasons by the democratic orators and press. Briefly though it may be said they should be in control for "business reasons," to quote the advocates of Mr. Beckham. Ninety per cent. of the property in this State and in this county belongs to democrats and the management of all business concerns is given to the majority and not the minority stockholders.

The Bradley and Taylor administrations are sad object lessons to show the mistake of violating this plain business principle. The personnel of the democratic nominees, to put it mildly, is equal in every particular to that of the republicans, and their fitness for the positions they seek is in most instances far superior.

Our gallant young governor, who seeks to succeed himself, has been weighed in the balance and found to fall the requirements in every particular. No governor since the civil war has assumed the duties of the office under more trying conditions and none has performed its duties with more credit to the commonwealth and himself. The State was overwhelmingly in debt at the beginning of his term, but its end will see the treasury overflowing. Though slandered and maligned on every side by unscrupulous foes, he has emerged from the investigation of every charge without so much as the smell of fire on his garments. Mr. Beckham is altogether unfitted for the position, having had no training or experience whatever in political affairs, and if elected, he would be compelled, as Bradley said, to run the office by proxy.

It by no means follows that a man would make a good governor because he can run a hardware store. He would know how to pardon the assassins of Goebel, though, and that would be among the first of his official acts. Had he not been the owner of a barrel, he would never have received the nomination.

The other gentlemen on the State ticket are capable, clean and honest and the superiors of their opponents in every particular.

Mr. Bell, the nominee for judge, is a lawyer of ability, a gentleman in all that the word implies, a consistent church member and for years has been at the head of the party organization in his county. Nature has endowed him with the qualities that make a model judge.

Mr. Hardin, who seeks the office of Commonwealth's attorney, has, as county attorney of Mercer, had eight years' experience in the prosecution of criminals and is an orator of force and ability. It has been publicly charged and never denied that his opponent never addresses a jury. A Commonwealth's attorney who can not speak could not have much weight in the prosecution of a case.

The bitterest enemy of Mr. Alverson will surely concede that he is as well equipped to take part in the proceedings of a legislative body as is his opponent. He is a democrat, tried and true and will vote with his party on every issue that may come before the General Assembly and against the effort the republicans will surely make to unseat Gov. Beckham on the ground of ineptitude, if they should have a majority. The welfare of the State imperatively demands a democratic majority in the General Assembly and it is the duty of every Lincoln county democrat to help make that majority.

These gentlemen have all been chosen as the standard bearers of the party and whether or not we favored them in the preliminary contests, they are now entitled to our hearty allegiance.

Therefore, let us make a long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether and run the majority so high that Kentucky may wipe from her escutcheon the stigma of being a doubtful State. Let the Northern corruptionists see that our people can not be corrupted by the boodle they are now pouring in. Let us be getting ready for next year's battle. We want to see the present occupant of the White House compelled to change his quarters. While he is possessed of a certain kind of ability, he is altogether unfitted to be chief executive. By his impetuosity, lack of discretion and narrow minded obstinacy, he has aroused sectional feeling as high as it was during the war. In placing himself on an equality with Negroes, he has made a disturbing element of the race question, which was rapidly settling itself before he appeared on the scene. In violation of his oath of office he has invaded another department of the government and abolished a postoffice because its patrons objected to a maiden soubre in color as well as character, handling their mail.

A lack of space forbids an enumeration of his many high handed and unauthorized acts. He seems to have taken as his model, President Diaz, of Mexico, and considers himself dictator instead of president of the United States. If he does these things to the green tree of a first term, while an avowed candidate to succeed himself, what may we not expect in the dry of a second?

O, democrats, arouse yourselves and go to the polls in your might! Let it be said of the head of the democratic column in this and all future elections, "There stands Old Kentucky."

No democratic former admirer of Gov. Beckham can read his so-called "address" to Gov. Beckham without a feeling of sadness and of regret that the old man has lived so long. No other production has been given utterance to on the stump or in type during the campaign and the charitable conclusion is that the "hero of Fort Donelson" is in his dotage.

COL. W. J. STONE says it is untrue that he will support the republican ticket. He is for Beckham and his entire ticket, he says.

GERMAN SYRUP.—We want to impress on our readers that Roschee's German Syrup is positively the only preparation on the market to-day that does relieve and cure consumption. It contains the specific, such as pure tar, extracts of gums, etc., which have been so highly endorsed for the cure of coughs, colds and consumption by the great medical congresses. The consumptive, whether his disease is in the throat or lungs, must have rest at night, and be free from the spasms of dry and racking cough in the morning. The diseased parts want rest, healing and soothing treatment, and the patient needs fresh air, good food, etc. German Syrup will give free and easy expectation in the morning with speedy and permanent relief. Small bottles, 25 cents; regular size, containing nearly four times as much, 75 cents. At all druggists.
